ANSWERED PRAYERS

We have all probably experienced it at one time or another. We spend countless hours in prayer over an issue in our life. We ask God to take care of this or that. We beg and we plead with God that He will answer our prayers and that His will, will be done. Eventually, it seems like it is just time to give up hope that God will give us the answer that we desire. It seems that God is answering our prayers with a resounding "No!" In that moment, someone comes into our life that serves as the answer to our prayer.

Most of us have probably experienced this to some degree. In our search to find a congregation to serve in the Kanawha Valley area, Erika and I were almost to the point of giving up hope. It had seemed that God just wasn't going to open up that opportunity. It seemed like God was closing all of these doors, so that we would remain in our work in Vienna. However, after over a year of searching and many closed doors, God opened the door here at Kanawha City. This congregation, the people here at this church, and YOU were the answer to our prayers.

I had someone tell me recently that they were in a similar, but opposite situation. The company that they went to work for had been praying for the right person to fill their position. This person had been told that they were the answered prayer of this company.

This really got me to thinking, people can be the answer to prayers. I have had countless occasions where I have prayed and another person has been the answer to that prayer. We have a tendency to pray that God will answer our prayers. We know that God answers our prayers. 1 John 5:14-15 says, "And this is the confidence that we have toward him, that if we ask anything according to his will, he hears us. And if we know that he hears us in whatever we ask, we know that we have the requests that we have asked of him." Sometimes the answer to our prayer comes in the form of another person.

I am grateful for the people that have been the answer to my prayers. However, I have never given much consideration from the opposite point of view. What a humbling thought to think that God might use me to be the answer to someone else's prayer. That by putting me in someone else's life, I might be an answered prayer that shines a light on the One who answers all prayers.

I would like to challenge you this week. Continue to ask God to answer your prayers. However, I want to challenge you to spend time asking God to open up opportunities for you to be the answer to someone else's prayer. Do this, not for any glory of your own; but that you might bring glory to God by allowing Him to use you in someone else's life. YOU might be an answered prayer!

Thanks to all of you for constantly being an answer to our prayers!

Love you all, Stephen

SMILE CORNER

When the Smith family moved into their new house, a visiting grandparent asked five-year-old Tommy how he liked the new place.

"It's great," he said. "I have my own room, Alex has his own room, and Jamie has her own room. Poor mom is still stuck in the same room with dad though."
