RELYING ON GOD

Two Sundays ago, I preached a sermon about how Jesus found rest in the storms of life. The following Monday, I was studying for our Wednesday night Bible class on Job. I was reading out of a devotional Bible entitled: God Guy Bible. As I was reading through the first chapter of Job again, this was the devotional attached with that section. I hope you will find it as meaningful as I did.

Love you all,
Stephen

“God is found at the end of yourself. When you are beat down, worn out, bruised and battered, God becomes everything. The less you can rely on yourself or your past success, the clearer and more impressive his presence becomes. When the hard times hit you often feel powerless, and with that there is less of you, and with less of you there is more room for him.

Prayer really takes wings and changes lives when it’s not about you, your problems, or your fears, but instead it’s about him, his will, and his ways. At that point everything you want and even need fades to the background. You don’t need peace with where you are or how you feel. You don’t need to feel comfortable with who you are or with who people think you are because you know who he is. You’ll find rest for your soul when you don’t care if you are distrusted, disputed, rejected, or shamed. When you come to that point, you have found all you need in the one who knows what it is to be misunderstood, doubted, and horribly rejected...

...Whatever junk you’re living through right now, just know that without this junk today, you might never find the need or passion for more of God. Don’t let this stuff be wasted on your soul. Let it scrub you clean of any hint of self-obsession and sweeten you with a pure and humble God-obsession.”

After a great earthquake, who rolled back the stone from the door of Christ's tomb?

• Mary • Martha • Thomas • Angel of the Lord

Check Matthew 28:2 for the answer.

SMILE CORNER

A rather stingy man died and went to heaven. He was met at the front gate by Saint Peter, who led him on a house tour down the golden streets. They passed mansion after beautiful mansion until they came to the end of the street and stopped in front of a tiny shack without gold paving in front. "And here is where you will be living, sir," Peter announced. "Me, live here?" the stingy man yelled. "How come?" Peter replied, "I did the best I could with the money you sent us."
